obtaining the assent of their intellects to his pr

BUILDING A GREAT BATTLE-SHIP.

Years to Finish Her.

[From the Baltimore American.]

Assistant Naval Constructor Francis T. Rowles

pared by the Barrow Shipbuilding Company, of Barrow, England, and were submitted to the Navy Department last March in response to an adver-isement for competitive designs for two armored ressels, one to be a cruiser and the other a battle-vessels, one to be a cruiser and the other a battle-ship. The Barrow design was judged the best of the battle-ships and accepted by the Secretary of the Navy and received the prize of $15,090 offered by the Government.

The vessel will be 290 feet in length, 64 feet beam, and have a mean draught of water of 265, feet. When fully equipped and at her normal draught, her total displacement or weight will be 8,300 tons.

She will be propelled by twin screws, actuated by two independent sets of machinery, vertical riple expansion engines, which, when developing, 600 indicated horse-power, will give the vessel a speed of seventeen knots per hour, or a measured uile. The coal bunkers will contain 95 tons of soal, or sufficient to enable the vessel to steam 5,000 miles at twelve knots an hour, or 2,180 miles at full speed.

stern chasers.

A light superstructure, forming a bridge deck, is built upon this deck, providing a clear space for the navigation of the vessel, for the storage of boats and for the mounting of a few light machine guns and search-lights. A chart-house and dying

The engines are placed in two compartments

The engines are placed in two compartments and the boilers in four, and a peculior feature is that the magazines and shell rooms are in a series of central, midship compartments, extending through the boiler rooms, thus bringing the ammunition directly under the guns, and in the most thoroughly protected part of the ship. This is a feature of the latest foreign designs. The vessel is entirely without sails and spars, being fitted with two sieel military masts, carrying four machine-guns in their tops.

The appropriation for building the vessel, exclusive of armament, is $2,500,000, and the estimated cost of the hull is $1,890,000, and of the machinery $485,000.

chinery $485,000.

The weight of the armor in the vessel is 1,200 tons. This will be made by the Bethlehem Iron Company, of Bethlehem, Pa., and will cost about $670,000. The weight of other steel material in the hull will be about 2,800 tons, and of woodwork about 260 tons.

The amount expended in labor upon the hull alone will not be far from $1,000,000. The extensive preparations which are necessary here before beginning the ship will prevent the laying of the keel for ten or twolve months, and Constructor Bowles thinks that it will require at least three years to complete the ship when once begun, employing a force of from 1,500 to 2,000 men. The additional plant will cost $150,000, and will place this yard in a position to build three other similar ships at once, if given the work.

NEW FACES AT THE HOTELS.

Capt. Cook, of the Etruria, stays at the Major McKerrel, of Scotland, is at the

Mr. Vander Keeft, Orange, N. J. is a guest at the Albemarle.

At the Hoffman are J. L. Lawrence, of Washington and Wilson Soule, of Rochester. Cincinnati's baseball club's President, A. N. Stern, made a bet of $1,000 to $800 at the Hoffman last night.

Gen. M. C. Wentworth, of Jackson, N. H., and Dr. William Duffy, of Buffalo, are regis-tered at the Normandie.

Two famous astronomers, Prof. Asaph Hall and Dr. C. H. F. Peters, of Hamilton College, are now at the Murray Hill.

The Fifth Avenue register bears the names of Col. C. McLean and wife, of San Fran-cisco, and W. A. Haskell, of Boston.

The Army and Navy are represented at the Grand Hotel by Lieut, Col. J. S. Conrad, U. S. A. and Paysnaster John Clyde Sullivan, U. S. N.

Among the prominent arrivals at the St. James are: Paymaster A. J. Clark, of the United States Navy, and Barrister H. W. A.

Ex-Gov. Thomas M. Waller, United State

Consul at London, is staying at the New York Hotel, while the Clarendon shelters ex-Gov. John T. Hoffman.

George F. Wright, of R. H. White & Co., Boston; ex-Mayor W. G. Thompson, of De-troit, and the Japanese Legation to Washing-ton are booked at the Victoria.

Among the guests at the Windsor are C. H

Hayden, Pool Commissioner of the wall paper trade, Boston; Chester Holcombe, ex-secretary of American Legation at Pekin, and lawyer Ashley Poud, of Detroit.

No Cause for Worry.

Could Carry All in One Lond.

[From Puck.] Mrs. Curmey—See my new winter wrap! Isn't t lovely? A boy brought it up, but he didn't bring he bill.

Mr. Curmey—Of course not. A boy couldn't carry the bill. They will send it up to-morrow on sighed Charley, "and all is over between us."

Peto, of London.

TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 8,

STRECRIPTION (Including Postage),

PER MONTH, 30c.; PER YEAR, $3.50.

THE OCTOBER RECORD.

Total number of "Worlds" printed during

8,479,880. AVERAGE PER DAY FOR THE ENTIRE 273,526 Copies.

October circulation during the past siz years

ADVERTISING RATES.

(Agate Measurement.) 7, 25 cents per line. No extra price for achieplay. Business or Special Notices, opposit hle display. Business or Special Notices, opposite rial page, 50 cents per line. Resding Notices, d er marked "Advi.": First page, $1,50 per Fourth page, $1,25 per line; Inside page, $1

ply to the Evening torne. Nor do the rates of that terus

THE POLLS CLOSE AT 4.

There will yet be time for many who read the first edition of THE EVENING WORLD to

NICOLL AND HONEST GOVERNMENT.

The polls close at Four o'clock. Don't neglect your first duty as a citizen. Help to smash the machine and veto Bossism.

WHERE TO GET THE NEWS.

Do you want the news to-night—the first news, the fullest news, the exact news, unolored by partisanship and unsuppressed by

Well, the correct place to get it is at THE WORLD's bulletins in Park row, in Madison Equare and at City Hall Square, Brooklyn.

Moreover, THE EVENING WORLD is making independent canvass of the vote for Disrict-Attorney. It will print the facts about that contest and all the rest of the ticket thout reserve and without delay. It will Issue extras every hour up to midnight, and, mless the vote is exceedingly close or some nforeseen delay occurs, no New Yorker ed go to his slumbers without a pretty definite idea of the result.

THE OFF-YEAR ELECTIONS.

Four States will to-day elect Governor wa, Maryland, Massachusetts and Ohio. Iowa and Massachusetts are regarded as tainly Republican and Maryland as surely pocratic. Ohio is in doubt.

Minor State officers are to be elected in New York, Nebraska and Pennsylvania. The mer is naturally a Democratic and the two latter Republican States.

Two Congressmen to fill vacancies are to be elected in this State and one in Rhode Island. Upon the result in the latter State will depend the ability of the Republicans to choose a President should the election be thrown into the House.

Legislatures are to be chosen in whole or In part in Iowa, Maryland, Massachusetts. Mississippi, New Jersey, New York, Ohio and Virginia.

Dakota votes on a proposition to divide the Perritory, and Oregon on three constitutional amendments. Full election returns will be given in THE WORLD, morning and evening.

HISTORY REPEATING ITSELF.

Democracy was on trial when in 1871-2-3. under the leadership of TILDEN, it grappled with the infamous Tween Ring within its ranks.

Democracy is on trial to-day in endeavoring to throw off the corrupt rule of Boodler and Boss and become again the party of the

The ability to purge itself is the supreme test of any party.

THEDEN, standing in the column of good government, was triumphant, and that tritumph made the Democracy stronger than over before.

Remember, Democrats, the election of NICOLL to-day does not weaken but strengthens the true Democracy.

THE MARTYRDOM OF O'BRIEN.

Mr. O'BRIEN, M. P., very properly resists the efforts of the British authorities to humiliate him by forcing him to don a convict's garb and consort with thieves and petty criminals.

He is a political prisoner, and not a felon. Though the bull-headed English officials may not admit that he is a patriot, they should at least recognize that he is a gentleman and that his imprisonment is simply political expediency.

To put him on bread and water diet and subject him to all manner of indignities is but to intensify his martyrdom and add fuel to the flames of Irish discontent and re-

Ireland seems to need many martyrs. But their enforced silence is more eloquent than speech. Their persecution but hastens the day of triumph for Home Rule.

A BECLOUDED MIND.

There must be something very unwhole some in the atmosphere of the City Hall.

Otherwise how could the clear-headed ABBAM S. HEWITT of a year ago say now of the disclosure of Col. FELLows's gambling practices: "That is a question for gamblers to settle." But for the malarial poison in the City Hall air Mayor HEWITT would see that when it is proposed to elect a confessed | wo gambler to enforce the laws against gambling. it is "a question " between the people and the gamblers.

Miasmatic effects are likewise evident in Mayor Hewirt's defense of Fellows's action in taking Tween's money. "I never heard it was a sin to borrow money from a bad man."

The Board of Health should at once look after the ventilation of the City Hall.

OPEN THE DOORS.

The opening of the Lenox Library to the public from 11 A. M. to 4 P. M. daily is a movement in the right direction. The principle should be carried further and applied to other institutions.

Why should any of our large collections of books and pictures be buried from the public and lose their usefulness? Let the trustees of these treasures adopt the most liberal and not the most stifling policy. Books were not made for moths, nor pictures for the dark. Open the doors, and open them wide.

JOHN L. ARROAD.

The biceps is mightier than the pen. Rus SELL LOWELL and Dr. HOLMES made barely a ripple in London compared to the tremendous ovation that has greeted John L. Sullivan. Ten thousand men met him at the station and 200 policemen were required to maintain order. All London is in a furor.

This tribute is particularly generous, for England is much prouder of her pugilists than of her poets. She is obliged to bow before the only John L. Upon the very hearthstone of the Marquis of QUEENSBERRY he is ready to meet and cheerfully wallop all comers.

The Bostonese may reap a harvest of profit as well as pride out of John L's tour. While the beef-eaters of England are admiring the great man's proportions and absorbing the remotest details of his daily life, he may patriotically divulge the secret that he is a bean-eater. Will not this be an invaluable advertisement of the succulent and musclegiving baked bean, at present unknown in England? Perhaps there is a big boom in store for Boston's languishing export trade. Bully for Britons and the brawn.

ON THE RIGHT SIDE.

The great German meeting last night wa an honor to our adopted fellow-citizens of that nationality.

If it did not put the finishing nail in the coffin of Bossism, so much the worse for New York!

All honor to voters who place principle before party, and who retain the ownership of themselves!

A BOODLE CANVARS. For the first time in years the local Demo cratic committees in this city have not spent a dollar for public meetings in behalf of the State ticket.

Not a dollar has gone for parades, music, speeches or documents. Not an idea beyond the spoils has been presented, nor a State or national issue discussed. during the entire campaign.

All the effort has been directed to electing a candidate for District-Attorney who would consider it "bad politics" to push the prosecution of public thieves of one's own party. And all the money-the LABGEST CORRUPTION FUND SINCE THE DAYS OF TWEED-has been reserved for use to-day. It is a square contest between Boodle and Principle.

Republican " heelers " and machine men are as naturally opposed to honest government as are Democrats of the same class They are always ready to " combine " for the spoils. Hence it is not strange that the Republican "ward workers" have joined in the work of trading and knifing Nicoll. There is no politics in roguery, but lots of roguery in politics.

There was a sharp point to the witticism of the Frenchman in reply to one who favored the abolition of the death penalty: "Let messicurs the murderers set the example." The dead and mutilated policemen at Chicago met with neither justice nor mercy.

At the opening of the polls this morning the early rush of NICOLL ballots let a ray of "daylight" into the minds of the anxious politicians. The aforesaid ray will become a perfect effulgence by sundown.

THE WORLD expects to win in this fight. But it would rather a thousand times be beaten on the side of the People than to succeed on the side of the Bosses.

WHEELER H. PECKHAM worked tooth and nail against the Big Tween. Of course he is putting forth his best efforts against the swarm of Tweedlets to-day.

In the "tug of war" between the Machine and the People honest workingmen should not lean against a Post as idle spectators of the contest.

INVITING ONE MORE KICK.

The "Deadly Parallel" Applies Its Deadly Kick Once More.

[From the Herald, Nov. 8. 11 From the Herald, Oct. 7.4 It would be a kindness The Herald's only ob-to Mr. Nicoll to allow ject in demanding the him lessare for study. If nomination of young Mr. Fellows, under the Nicoll for District-Attorcircumstances, is deney is to have the rights feated it would be the of the people properly decruel end of a brilliant fended. Nicoli is full of career. Defeat of Mr. healthy blood; he is Nicoll would be his gain, tough as a blokery nut;

> he knows a hawk from a handsaw every time, and U a man should attempt to offer him a bribe he scould throw him out of and telephone for the Coroner.

No Curds.

[From the Burlington Free Press.] She (blushing)—Yes, Reginald, if you insist upon t, we will be married next month. But I have one stipulation to make.

IT WAS A MEAN ADVANTAGE.

The Mad Circumstance Attending an Ir

Policeman in Australia. Leopold Jordan, a London dramatic author, who arrived in this city recently from Australia, told a story the other night that will interest a good many New York artists. It Will Take Nearly 2,000 Men Three William C. Fitler Walter L. Smedley and Fred B. Schell went over to Australia about a year and a half ago to make illustrations for a picturesque atlas of Australasia. While who is to superintend the construction of the there they were made much of by journalists, artists, actors and club men. new twin-screw battle-ship to be built at the Norfolk (Va.) Navy-Yard, furpishes the following interesting descrip-tion of the great vessel: The designs were pre-

One night a party of thirteen, including the American artists and Mr. Jordan, spent a happy time in a club in Sydney and then started down the street in a sort of procession. Some one proposed that the thirteen should sing, to let the peaceful inhabitants know that there was some life left in the old town.

"All right," said Mr. Fitler, "we'll sing 'Yankee Doodle.'"

'Yankee Doodle.'"

"Oh. I say," spoke up a loyal Australian,"

"we'll do nothing of the sort; but we'll sing
'God Save the Queen.'"

The party stopped and argued the matter for a time, but Fitler won the opposition over by marching on ahead and singing "Yankee Doodle" with all his might. An Irish policeman met the procession at a street

Corner.
"Phwat do yez mane?" said he, with constabulary severity. "Sthop it, or I'll run yez in."

Fitler said that he wouldn't stop, and that no one could make him stop, whereupon Mr. Jordan broke in with "God Save the Queen" "Hould yer whist," commanded the po-liceman, "or I'll run yez in!" Both Fitler and Jordan protested that they 6,000 miles at twelve knots an hour, or 2,180 miles at full speed.

Technically speaking, the vessel is a twin-screw, boited, double-turret ship, with an armored redoubt inclosing the lower parts of the turrets, the hydraulic machinery for moving the turrets and loading the guns and the funnel casings of the boilers. The upper deck is eighteen feet above the water, and upon it are two turrets of twelve-inch steel armor, each containing a twelve-inch gun. The turrets are placed en echelon—that is, the forward one is on the port side, and the other one is on the starboard side, so that each of the twelve-inch guns may be brought to bear right ahead or right astern, as well as on both broadsides. Two six-inch guns are placed upon central pivot mountings forward and aft upon this deck for bow and stern chasers.

A light superstructure, forming a bridge deck, could not stop.
"What will you do about it, anyway?" asked Jordan.
"Pil run yez in, the whole thirteen of yez.

"I'll run yez in, the whole thirteen of yez.
Oh, I've counted yez all."
"I'd like to see you do it," said Fitler.
"Go ahead, now. Just try it once."
"Yes, do," urged Jordan.
The policeman looked at the crowd in mingled despair and rage. "It's a mane advantage ye'd be takin' of me," said he.
"There's thirteen of yez, and only wan of me. It's a mane trick, but I'll know yez.
Oh, yes, I'll know yez the next time!"
The procession went its way, to the commingled strains of "Yankee Doodle" and "God Save the Queen."

CRASHED INTO A TRAIN.

Wild Engine on the Eric Kills One Man

In an accident on the Eric Railway at Se saucus, five miles out from Jersey City, at 6.16 o'clock last evening, John O'Donnell was instantly killed and Pat Dage was se-thick, and the guns disposed to secure a heavy bow and stern fire and a good defense against torpedo boat attack.

Elaborate provisions are made for the use of torpedoes. Means are provided for ejecting torpedoes. Means are provided for ejecting torpedoes through tubes in six positions—one forward (through the bow), one aft (through the sides, The protection of the vital parts of the ship consists of a steel armor beit tweive inches thick, extending forward and aft over a length of 159 feet, terminating at each cud with an armored breastwork six inches thick, extending diagonally across the centre of the vessel. The same beit is backed with six inches of wood, two thicknesses of steel-plating, five-eighths of an inch thick, and rigid framing and girders.

An armored protective deck, three inches thick, extendover the engines, boliers and magazines, sloping down forward and all to the extremities of the vessel, protecting the steering gear aft and meeting the bow at the point of the ram. The stem is formed in a powerful ram, and heavily strengthened. The redoubt upon the main deck, inclosing the base of the turrets and their gear, is twelve inches thick and covered with one-inch plating over the space not occupied by the turrets. The hull is built entirely of steel, on the cellular system. The double bottom extends under the engines, boliers, and magazines for a length of 100 feet, and is divided both longitudinally and transversely into numerous water-tight compartment, fitted for water-ballast, so that the vessel may be trimmed when coal and stores are consumed. Great strength is given to the structure by the bulkheads and decks, longitudinal bulkheads extend for some distance fore and aft, together with transverse bulkheads, dividing the hull into a great a number of water-tight compartments.

The engines are placed in two compartments and the bullers in furr and a powerful or four to the structure to the substance of the survey to the survey to the survey to the bulkheads. verely injured. Both men were employees of the railroad. They were unmarried.

Passenger train No. 42, eastward bound, was delayed at the Hackensack draw-bridge to allow a boat to pass. Immediately behind the train was a locomotive running "wild." The bridge was closed and both the train and engine crossed, O'Donnell and Dage leaping on the rear platform.

engine crossed, O'Donnell and Dage leaping on the rear platform.

Secaucus station is about one thousand feet east of the bridge, and the train stopped there for passengers. The engine, however, did not stop until it had crushed into the rear platform, splintering it up, crushing the life out of O'Donnell and maiming Dage. The body of O'Donnell was brought to Jersey City on the train, and Dage was taken to St. Francis's Hospital.

FIGS AND THISTLES. 4

Dr. William Everett, the chief of the Massachu setts;mugwumps, knows Virgils " Æneid" and all the odes and epodes of Horace by heart.

Through the courtesy of Mrs. Grant, Gen Grant's famous old war horse ''Claiborne" has een presented to the Soldiers' Home at Leaven-

Mrs. Mart Holcomber, of Brady Island, Neb. cleaned out a den of snakes on her farm last week killing forty of the reptiles. The only weapon sh used was a stout club A citizen of Dallas (Tex.) has invented an elec tric fishing line which kills a fish the instant it seizes the hook and at the same time rings a bell n shore to warn the slumbering fisherman. A new importation from Europe is an ingenior piece of mechanism in the form of a bird which ings and goes through the motions of a canary wit fidelity to nature that is said to be surprising During the strike of the printers employed on th tochester Union, William Purcell, editor of the paper and a member of the State Board of Arbitraon, took a " case" and set his "string" just a he used to do years ago.

The Marion Improvement Company, of McDowa rich vein of gold instead. The people are very much excited over the discovery and land near the vein has already gone up to Wichita prices.

A gang of tie choppers in Colorado recently saw two large buck deer engaged in deadly combat on the side of a mountain, near Trinidad. The animals' horns had become locked together so that the men had no difficulty in approaching and killing the deer with their axes. Kentucky papers contain glowing accounts of the eloquence of Mrs. Lulu [Nield, a lecturer, who ts arousing the State to the evils of intemperance. She recently invaded Versailles, the home of Sen ator Blackburn, and the Woodford Sun sava that the distinguished Kentuckian cannot hold a candle to her as an orator. An execution of a horrible cruel nature is re ported from Chinkiang, China. A prisoner was besten upon the feet at the order of the district magistrate until both ankles were broken and was then forced to stand on tip-toe in a cage until he fell dead upon the floor, Frank Winne, a Texas negro of no education, is said to be a prodigy of mechanical genius, his talent in mechanics being similar to that of Blind Tom in Music. He exhibited at the Dallas fair recently a steam engine of small size but remarkable nower which, it is predicted, will work a revolution in mechanical ideas. It is estimated that the pine trees on the Menon onee reservation, in Wisconsin, where 1,500 In-dians are quartered, would yield 250,000,000 feet of marketable lumber. This lumber is worth $5 per ,000 feet standing, and if the money realized from its sale were put out at interest a handsome annuity would be secured to each Indian.

It is getting to be the fashion now in the upper circles of Chicago society to name children before they are born. Engraved cards are sent to friends the instant the baby makes its advent into the world, and to guard against and mistake in prognostication two sets of cards are printed, one bear ing a masculine, the other a feminine, name.

An incendiary mounted on a horse and carrying blazing torch dashed over the Centennial Valley Range, near Laramie, W. T., recently, setting fire to the grass in innumerable places. No winprevaited and the fires were speedily extinguished: but had the conditions been less favorable thousands of cattle would have been stampeded and great damage done.

The "Newspaper Boss."

[From J. L. Miller's Speech at the German Meeting.] What does the "newspaper boss" do? He does not stuff ballot-boxes; he does not run primaries he does not appoint officials, who draw their fat salaries and spend their time and money in corrupting voters. No; but he sits quietly in his office. and through the columns of the press submits cer tain facts and arguments to the consideration of his fellow-citizens. These facts and arguments his fellow-citizens weign and country, course receives the assent of their intellects, they course receives the assent of appearing and appearing to his may adopt his suggestions and subscribe to his carry the to paper; but if his ideas are not agreeable to his read-on a dray.

ers, they very soon stop taking his paper and take that of a rival which expresses more nearly their DECEMBER WILL BE MERRY. own ideas. Now, where is the danger in all this?

The newspaper boss can influence citizens only by IT WILL BE ENLIVENED BY NUMEROUS BALLS, TEAS AND WEDDINGS.

> Mr. Newbold T. Lawrence and Miss Isabell Gillet to be Married Early in the Month-Theatre Parties from Out of Town Com See Irving-New Yorkers to Attend the Wright-Coxe Wedding in Philadelphia.

will be at 4 in the after-noon, will performed by the Rev. R. W. Howe, jr., assisted by Brooks, at the Church of the Incarnation. There will be six ushers, and no bridesmaids. Mr. Howard E. Case, of Auburn, who, with his mother and his sister-in-law, Mrs. Willard Case, are guests at the Windsor, Willard Case, are guests at the Windsor, gave a dinner party to a number of friends on Saturday, who afterwards witnessed the first production of "Dorothy" at the Standard Theatre.

Mrs. Oscar Livingston's party this evening at the Fifth Avenue Theatre to see Mrs. James Brown Potter will include Miss Kip, Miss Fanshawe, the Misses Ferris, and Messrs. A. A. Bibby, T. J. Oakley Rhinelander and Philip Livingston.

Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt returned to their home, Fifth avenue and Fifty-seventh street, yesterday for the winter.

winter.
Mrs. Kissam, of 73 First place, Brooklyn coats and for the mounting or a rew light machine guns and search-lights. A chart-house and flying bridge, carrying two one-pounder rapid-firing guns and two search-lights, are provided. A heavy armored conning tower, twelve inches thick, is placed well forwared, on a level with the bridge-deck. The communications with the conning tower for navigating the vessel are protected by an armored tube taree inches, thick.

Four six-inch guns are arranged on sponsors on the main deck—the one next below the upper deck, two commanding a range from right forward to twenty-five degrees abaft the beam, and two others similarly aft. Four six-pounders, four three-pounders, Hotchkiss rapid firing guns and forty-seven revolving cannons are found on the main deck, the whole of the guns on this deck being protected by side-plating one and a half inches thick, and the guns disposed to secure a heavy bow and stern fire and a good defense against orpedo boat attack.

Mrs. Kissam, of 73 First place, Brooklyn, upon her arrival yesterday on the Etruria, was met by her sister, Mrs. William H. Vanderbilt, and Mrs. Elliott Shepard.

Mr. Henry Brevoort Kane attracts much attention every afternoon on Fifth avenue with his pony tandem, and no tiger.

A number of theatre parties, even from other cities, attended Irving's first performance last evening. These included Mrs. H. C. Hastings and a party of ten from her home in New Haven, and Mr. Walter Herring, who brought on a large party with him from Philadelphia. Mrs. A. E. Kidd, of Fifth avenue, took a party of twelve with her. Mr. E. A. Buck had a party with him. Mrs. M. B. Flynn gave a very large party.

Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Lawrence have returned to this city from Bar Harbor. Mr. Lawrence will give a dinner on Saturday at the Manhat-

Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Lawrence have returned to this city from Bar Harbor. Mr. Lawrence will give a dinner on Saturday at the Manhattan Club in honor of Count Forresti, of the Italian legation at Washington, and Mortimer Thorn, his future brother-in-law.

Miss Louise Floyd Jones, of Bayside, L. I., is visiting Miss Lillian Gwynn, of 40 West Fifty-eighth street, this week.

A dinner will be given this evening by Mr. Conkling and Miss Laura Conkling, of 27 East Tenth street. The table will be very finely decorated. The favors will be bunches of roses. The guest of honor will be Mrs. M. Livingston. The party will include Mr. and Mrs. Wysong, Mr. Philip Livingston, Mr. and Mrs. Abner Colgate, Mrs. Paran Stevens and Miss Stauffer.

Mrs. Bram Stoker is very much admired, and it is said that she is engaged for months ahead while in this country for dinners to be given in her honor in Boston, Chicago and other cities.

other cities.

Numerous parties from this city will go to-morrow morning to attend the Wright-Coxe nuptials at noon. It will be the most brilliant fashionable wedding of the Philadelphia season. The twelve ushers who will act gave Mr. Wright a dinner on Saturday evening at the Hotel Bellevue. The floral decorations were all dasises, in honor of the bride-elect, Miss Daisy Coxe, and the menu cards were tied with bunches of daisles and orange blossoms intertwined. ssoms intertwined.

A slight fire occurred on the roof of the office of the Eben Peck lumber-yard, at Twenty-fourth street and Eleventh avenue this morning. Yesterstreet and Eleventh avenue this morning. Yesterday there was a fire in Police Commissioner McClave's lumber-yard in the same vicinity.

The news-stand of Frank Smith, at Eighth avenue and Nineteenth street, was burned out this morning, involving a loss to building and stock of $150. The oil stove did its work.

Fire broke out on the top floor of the five-story building at 158 East Fifty-third street this morning. The floor was occupied by John Holder, whose loss is about $1,000. The cause of the fire is unknown.

Lawrence Ruble, forty-two years of age, of 586 Tenth avenue, was arraigned in the Jefferson Market Police Court this morning on a charge of assaulting Mary Holland, age fourteen years, of 463 West Forty-second street. It was charged that Ruhle selzed the girl by the throat in an outbuild-ing in the yard of her home and choked her into slience. She made a desperate struggle without avail. Ruhle was frightened away by Mrs. Hol-land and another woman, who came into the yard. He will have an examination to-morrow.

Charged with Forging a Check.

Garviau Eliero, age twenty-five years, who was employed in the artist studio of L. Speridon & Co. 30 West Twenty-third street, as a cierk, was ar rested for forging a check for $10 upon the Garfield National Bank, where the artists keep their accounts. He signed the name of L. Sperido, and got the check cashed by W. Pratt Cilvehugh, fire insurance agent, at 50 Clinton place. The forgery was detected at the bank. At the Jefferson Market Police Court this morning Ellero was held for trial.

Deakert's Victim Dead.

The display of anger by Berman F. Deakert, the sexagenarian, has cost a human life. thoughtlessly and during rage discharged a rethoughtlessly and during rage discharged a re-volver at eleven-year-old Edward Worth, because impressed with the spirit of local particism the boy was tearing some boards from a fence, and the ili-fated bullet struck its mark too well. Young Worth received the bail in his breast and, after home, $28 East Seventy-first street. Deakert will be compelled to stand a trial for murder.

University Council Election. The annual meeting of the New York University Council last night elected as members George Henry Moore, LL. D., to succeed William R. Mar-tin; George Alexander, D. D., to succeed S. O. Vanderpoel, M. D. William S. Opdyke was elected Secretary in place of William R. Martin. The other officers were re-elected. The condition of the University was never so prosperous as now.

[SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.] BRIDGETON, N. J., Nov. 8.-The congregati the First Presbyterian Church of Bridgeton last evening extended a call to the Rev. Sylvester W. Besch, of the Twelfth Precinct Presbyterian Church of Baltimore. Mr. Beach will probably accept.

A Call to a Baltimore Preacher.

Kindly Assisted.

[From the Washington Critic.]
"Look here, my friend," said a well-dressed (From Harper's Basur.) man to a Washington policeman last Sunday, "I want a drink very badly. Can't you help me "What kind of a ring is it?" asked experience "I can, sir," rejoined the guardian of the seace, who was of Hibernian extraction. George-"diamond?"
"No; a cheap affair; only cost a couple of dol-peace, who was of Hibernian extraction.

Ah, thanks. Here's something for you, by the way. Where did you say I could get a little "No; a cheap saint; the saint, sold man; "Well, don't you give up the ship, old man; she'll be all right in a day or two. It is only when a girl lets go of a diamond ring that she really means business." the way. Where did you say I could get a fittle drink?"
"Hight around the corner to your lift, sorr; yeze'll foind a poomp an' a dipper."

Sure to Hold It.

[From the St. Paul Globe.] "Strap that trunk up well, Mike: if you don't the baggage-men will break it all to pieces.

"Do yees think so?"

"Sure."
"Bodad, I think Oi'll jist step firninst the ner an' git a chist pertecthur an' put onto it."

ROMANCE OF SETH BATEMAN'S HEIR.

Deserted by His Bride the Day After Their Marriage and Elopement.

[SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.] NEWPORT, R. I., Nov. 8 .- The death of Seth Bateman and the fact that it is stated on good authority that he has left a fortune variously estimated at from $300,000 to $400,000, causes a good deal of speculation as to who is heir will be thought that his adopted son, Seth Bateman Dodge, will inherit a goodly share of the fortune. Young Dodge, whose parents were poor people, living in the adjoining town of Tiverton, succeeded a few cember will be a very gay month, with numerous balls, teas and weddings. The marriage of the first week will be that of Mr. Newbold T. Lawrence and Miss Isabelle Gillet, daughter of the late N. Hallock Gillet. Dodge was good looking and always around the place, an attachment soon sprang up between the two. One summer evening they were married quietly and eloped to New York and stopped at one of the Fifth avenue hotels. The next morning the bride, Mrs. Sanford Dodge, left her husband at the hotel, telling him that she was going downtown to draw some money out of the bank. She never returned to him. Gov. Sanford was nearly heart-broken, but his daughter returned to him and he at once set about making an effort to separate the young about making an effort to separate the young about making an effort to separate the young couple. An active young lawyer was engaged and Dodge was sent to California, richer than he had ever before been, except in the matter of his young love. The young lawyer went to California, too, and succeeded in arranging a divorce. Not long afterwards he married Mrs. Dodge, née Sanford, himself. Dodge remarried and is now prospering on the Pacific coast. He sanford, misself. Douge remarried and is now prospering on the Pacific coast. He will probably receive a good bequest by Mr. Bateman's will. James C. Swan and Anthony S. Sherman are the executors, and they get $10,000 each for managing the property.

CHEROKEES PREPARING FOR A WAR. Rallying of the Factions-Bad Blood and Bas Whiskey Prevailing.

ISPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD. VINITA, Ind. Ter., Nov. 8 .- The greatest xcitement prevails throughout the Cherokee Nation. It is only a question of time when the Cherokee will be pitted against his brother in a fight that will be short, but destructive to the Indian of this Nation and which will doubt result in the opening no of this beautiful country to the settlement of the whites and the extermination of the 1ed men. The trouble has been brewing for the men. The trouble has been browing for the past five months over the election of a Chief. At the Council yesterday, Chief Bushyhead's term as Chief expired. The new Council not being organized, L. W. Bell became Chief by virtue of being President of the Senate, thus throwing for the time being the government into the hands of the Downing party. The crowds that began to surround the Council Chamber at 9 o'clock kept growing larger, and hundreds of excited to surround the Council Chamber at 9 o'clock kept growing larger, and hundreds of excited Indians were watching the proceedings of their representatives, ready at any moment to engage in a fight. The whiskey peddler is on the ground. If he is not dispensed with trouble will surely come. The Council adjourned without accomplishing anything, both sides being determined that their candidate for Chief should be seated. Great crowds are pouring into seated. Great crowds are pouring into seated. Great crowds are pouring into Tablequah from the country, helping to swell the enraged populace. If the whiskey can be kept from the crowd order will prevail; but if the Indians are allowed to get it no power can prevent a bloody conflict to-

TO KEEP OUT TURPIE AND FAULKNER.

How the Republicana Hope to Remain is Control of the Senate.

ISPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.1 Washington, Nov. 8 .- There is some talk among the Republicans of keeping Messrs. Faulkner of West Virginia and Turple of Indiana out of the Senate. If the Democrate carry Virginia to-day, and Faulkner and Turple are seated, the Senate will be a tie after March 4, 1889, and a Democratic Vice-President, if that party is successful next year, will have the deciding vote.

It will be remembered that the Legislature of West Virginia adjourned without electing a successor to Senator Camden, whose term expired on the third of March last. On the fifth of March, the Governor appointed Daniel Lucas Senator to serve until the elec-tion of a successor by the Legislature.

Some time afterward the Legislature met in extra session and elected Charles J. Faulkner, but it was claimed by some of Lucas's friends that it was not legal to elect at the extra session, and that Lucas must be the Senator until an election by the Legislature in regular session.

lar session.

Lucas has, of course, never taken his seat, but is probably willing to. It is possible that the swearing in of Faulkner will be objected to, and Lucas also retarded in whatever ambition he may still have in the Senstorial line.

Faith Cure Revival in the South. [SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.]

EUFAULA, Ala., Nov. 8.—Mrs. Perry, a faith-cure disciple, has been preaching for some days at he Judson Free-Will Baptist Church at White Oak. One lady, whose peculiar disease baffled medical treatment testified to the wonderful cure medical treatment testified to the wonderful cure wrought by the woman preacher and he. own prayers, A gentleman with a withered hand for twenty years feit the blood coursing through it again and shouted the praises of the faith cure, and everybody united in praising the woman, "An angel unawares," as they called her, who had wrought those miracles. The neighborhood is enjoying an unusual revival.

A Georgia Farmer Murders His Neighbor. [SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.] AMERICUS, Ga., Nov. 8. -Zab Wallace was this morning put in jail here for the murder of George Bell. Wallace's hogs got into Bell's potato patch and they had several currrels about it. Yesterday morning the quarrel broke out afresh and the men clinched in fight. Wallace, who had a knife in his hand, stabbed Bell several times, and as the man was dying in his arms increased the rapidity of his blows. Throwing his victim's dead body to the ground, he fied, but was captured late in the night.

Sale of a Florida Railroad.

ISPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD. JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Nov. 8. -The Blue Springs Orange City and Atlantic Railroad was sold yesterday at receiver's sale for $141,500, to E. R. Chapman, representing the New York capitalists who furnished the money to build it. The road is thirty-one miles long, and runs from Orange City, 100 miles south of Jacksonville, Tampa and Key West Railroad, to New Smyrna, on the Atlantic coast. The last-named road bid $140,000. Dexter Hunter was the receiver. coast. The last-named I Hunter was the receiver.

Death of a Well-Known Actor. [SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.]

TROY, Nov. 8.—Thomas J. Martin, of Phila-deiphia, an actor who played the part of Horatio Chester in "Lost in London," died suddenly this morning at the American House from heart disease. Martin performed his part last night, but complained of illness. He was forty-two years old. His wife is Marion Fisk, of Daly's Company. Martin was a member of the Actors' Relief Association of New York, and will be buried by that organization.

Striking Girls Adopt New Tactics [SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.]

PITTSBURG, Nov. 8.—The striking laundry girls have adopted new tactics. With light buggles they now follow the collecting wagons of Brace Bros.' boycotted laundry, learn the names of patrons and request them to withhold washing. This scheme is meeting with considerable snoccas.

CHAT ABOUT THE THEATRES

RIVALRY BETWEEN TWO MEMBERS OF

MRS. POTTER'S COMPANY. Mr. Bellew is Only "Featured," While Mr. Haworth is "Starred"-Melodrama Successful in Cheap Theatres-The Lyceum Company to Go to California-Robenzale

HERE is said to be some very severe rivalry between the beautiful and fascinating Kyrle Bellew and the insinuating Joseph Haworth. The cause of the "feeling," which was discussed on the highways and byways vesterday, is one that people uninitiated in things theatrical will find it hard to understand. Joseph Haworth, be it said, has been engaged by Mr. H. Clay Miner to play in "Loyal Love" the part assigned to Mr. Willard in London. Now Mr. Miner is deliberately and glaringly "starring" Mr. Haworth. He calls him "the young American star," though what on earth Mr. Haworth has done for a star beyond playing for five consecutive weeks in "Rosedale," is one of those mysteries which will dale," is one of those mysteries which will probably never be solved. Mr. Bellew is merely "featured" on the Potter programme. That is to say, it is announced that Mrs. Potter "is supported by Mr. Kyrle Bellew by courtesy of Henry E. Abbey." He therefore finds himself in a company with two stars, Mrs. Potter and Mr. Haworth, and he is said to feel the indignity very keenly.

he is said to feel the indignity very keenly.

Kate Claxton's terribly realistic English melodrama "The Pointsman" will be produced for the first time in this country at the People's Theatre, on Jan. 23. "The Bells of Haselman," now running in London, will be given an American representation during the winter at the Grand Opera-House, by which facts it will be seen that melodrama must be born in cheap theatres in order to live successfully. The success of "Harbor Lights" and "Hoodman Blind" at the Grand Opera-House and People's Theatre and their failure at Wallack's, has made this fact very apparent to managers. apparent to managers.

Manager Al Hayman, of San Francisco, who now surveys Eastern theatrical events from a cosy office in the metropolis, signed a contract yesterday to take the Lyceum play. "The Wife," with the entire company, across the continent at the end of its season here. The members of the Lyceum company are people who, during previous visits to the Pacific side, have established themselves as great favorites among Californians. Manager Hayman, it is said, guarantees the Lyceum Theatre a profit of $500 per week for twenty weeks. Rather neat!

"Rudolph" will remain for a fortnight longer at the Fourteenth Street Theatre, after which George Knight will go to Montreal. He will return later to this city to fill an en-gagement at Niblo's Garden, The regular rehearsals of "She" com-mence next Monday for the acting cast. The chorus numbers fifty-four voices. The Lyceum Theatre has lent Thomas Gossman, the property man of that house, to the man-agers of "She," who need some one to take charge of their "effects." Mrs. Blotter played to an extremely good house at Dockstader's last night, in her fa-vorite comedy "Mile. de Brass Ear." Bou-quets were showered upon the lady when she first appeared upon the stage and, after hav-ing bowed tumultuously, put her handker-chief to her eyes just as Mrs. Potter did at the Fifth Avenue Theatre. But Dockstader doesn't rely entirely upon Mrs. Blotter. He has other attractions. Next week "Faust"

IRVING'S PRODUCTION OF "FAUST."

Of course, our acquaintance with devils here below is extremely limited, and if the name of his Satanic Majesty has—as Mr. Irving declared last night-become a byword, it is merely among those people who like to talk of what they don't under

Henry Irving's conception of the devil Mephistopheles last night was a delightful revelation to me. If the king of evil is as nice and intellectual should like to meet him immensely Here is a devil utterly devoid of that wfulness which I have always attributed to him. He chats pleasantly, scintillates with humor, wooes a plump and comely widow in a most fascinating manner, walks daintily about, and even trills s Mephistopheles at the Star Theatre last night was the only character in "Faust" who, if put into real life, would have made himself known. He would have shown us the political world as a Machiavellan politician. Indeed, there is no office that he might not have run for. Paust and Margaret and Valentine are always namby-pamby sort of creatures—very usual and very stupid.

Such a view of Mephistopheles may be very shocking, but it is not my fault that Mr, Irving made him so attractive. All his supernatural de fects would, of course, be overcome in real life. Miss Terry was delightful as the unfortunate Margaret. Her extreme simplicity and the great difficulty one has to believe that she is only ing " make her performance one that all men and women interested in the stage should see. When she first appeared, an audience who have been satiated with stars wanted her to stand and bow for half an hour while they applauded as mos stars like them to applaud. Miss Terry went quietly on with her part and forced the audience into silence. Think of that, ye perfumed stars, with your sickening flowers er-the-footlight business and all the rest of your claptrap nonsense !

Two modest pluk rose wreaths were handed to Miss Terry last night-none of those wonderfu floral devices with "Welcome" in roses, that somehow remind me of the cups one can buy at the seaside marked ''A present to a good boy." The scenery used in "Paust" was starfling New York is accustomed to handsome stage mountings, but that at the Star Theatre last night was simply magnificent. Faust's dream, the summit of the Brocken and Martha's house were I didn't care for the witches' kitchen. It looked oo much like the old English pantomimes, with the demons and the sprites and the goblins. The company supporting Mr. Irving and Miss

Terry is a thoroughly good one. Mr. Alexander made Faust as vigorous as he could, and Mrs. Chippendale's Martha was a very effective piece of work. The audience were enthusiastic, anxious to show their pleasure. They testified to Mr. Irving tha all his marvellous little bits of business were duly appreciated. There is no audience on this glob so utterly alive to every good thing in a play as at American audience. ALAN DALE. She Couldn't Stand It. [Prom the St. Paul Globe.]

Pirst Old Maid—Jane, did you look under 186

ed before putting the light out? Second Old Maid-What for? To see if there was a man there,"

" Why not ?"
" Oh, I've been disappointed so many times."